February 2009

Free London Events is a website dedicated to free events in London. February is a very popular time for free events in London - This month is the celebration of the Chinese New Year, there are lots of talks down at The Green Royal Naval College and free music on the South Bank.

For a full list of events go to www.freelondonevents.co.uk

Greenwich Park and Royal Naval College.

This month there are numerous talks in the Royal Naval College Greenwich. Meet John Deman, a caribbean Greenwich Pensioner in the early 19th century who left his West Indies home to join Admiral Lord Nelson's fleet. Hear about his life at sea as a young boy and in the Royal Hospital for Seamen as a Pensioner, whilst there, you can visit the Royal Observatory Greenwich and see great views across London. The 188 bus goes from Russell Square-Aldwych-Waterloo-Elephant-Surrey Quays or take a boat from Westminster Pier.

In and around the Southbank Centre you will find lots of free music events.

Every weekend in the Royal Festival Hall there are free music events.

Take a walk along the river bank from the Southbank Centre to see Tower Bridge.

There are always entertainers in Covent Garden at the weekend.

Visit Portabella Road Market on a Saturday Morning.

Chinese New Year Celebrations.

There will be celebrations in Trafalgar Square on 1st February for the start of the Year of the Ox. Chinese New Year is the biggest festival of the year in Chinese communities and is sometimes known as the Spring festival

The Guard Change at Buckingham Palace takes place at 11:30 daily from May until the end of July and on alternate days for the rest of the year, weather permitting.
