March 2009

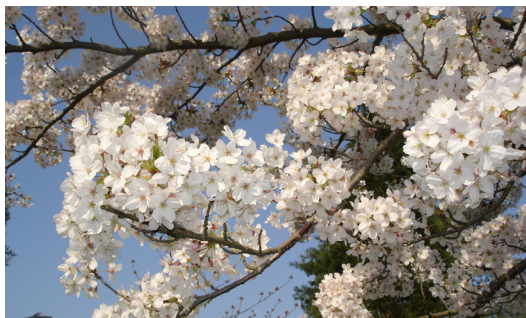

Free London Events is a website dedicated to free events in London. February is a very popular time for free events in London - This month is the celebration of the Chinese New Year, there are lots of talks down at The Green Royal Naval College and free music on the South Bank.

For a full list of events go to www.freelondonevents.co.uk

Royal Parks.

The Royal Parks come alive in the spring; there are a number of organised walks in the parks in March. There are also art markets on the railings of Green Park on a Saturday and Regents/Kensington Gardens on a Sunday.

Before you walk down the Bayswater Road to look at the art on the railings, check out Speakers corner.

Also check out Greenwich Park, catch the riverbus from the embankment. There is also a great craft market on a Wed/Thu/Fri/Sat/Sun and you can climb the hill and see the Royal Greenwich Observatory.

As spring is in the air checkout the very popular but well hidden Columbia Road Flower Market. Here you will be able to buy all the plants you need for your window box or country estate. There are also some great flower pots and accessory shops.

There are always entertainers in Covent Garden at the weekend.

Visit Portabello Road Market on a Saturday Morning.

St. Patrick's Day Celebrations.

The St Patrick's Day Parade will take place on March 15 2009. Come and join this colourful spectacle of marching bands from Ireland and the UK, community groups, sports clubs, schools and street theatres who will take to the streets of central London for a fun filled family day out.

The parade starts at 12 noon and will follow the route down Piccadilly on to Regent Street by Trafalgar Square and dispersing in Whitehall Place.

The Guard Change at Buckingham Palace takes place at 11:30am daily from May until the end of July and on alternate days for the rest of the year, weather permitting.
