November 2009

Free London Events, is a website dedicated to free events in London. November is a very popular time for free events in London - The Lord Mayor's Parade - Firework Night - London to Brighton Road Race - Remembrance Day. For a full list of events go to www.freelondonevents.co.uk

The Lord Mayor's Parade

Saturday 14th November 11am City of London

The Lord Mayor's procession winds through nearly 800 years of London's history, marching unscathed through everything from the black death to the blitz. In the 17th century it was inconvenienced by the building site that would later become St Paul's Cathedral. In the twentieth it was the first event ever to be broadcast live on television. In the 21st, it's a day out for half a million people, with millions more watching on the BBC. Fireworks at 5pm along the Thames

London Free Firework Displays

The Roundwood Park 18:45 fireworks display is taking place in November 2009, promising traditional Guy Fawkes fun for Bonfire Night 2009.

Remember remember the 5th November... The Roundwood Park fireworks display is taking place on Thursday 5th November 2009, giving Londoners the opportunity to enjoy traditional Guy Fawkes fun.

Fun and fireworks in North London Roundwood Park will be bristling with activity throughout the evening, as the crowds come out to enjoy a spectacular display of fireworks in London. As well as the main fireworks display a selection of kids' fairground rides will also be available, offering a treat for young visitors on the night.

Clapham Common
